News Digest.

The Republican Mass Meeting at Springfield, Ill., yesterday, was a splendid success The attendance was much larger than at any meeting ever before held there; the procession alone being six miles long! Speeches were made by Senators TRUMBULL and DOOLITTLE, and Representatives WASHBURNE and KELLOGG, and others. During the afternoon "Honest Old ABE" appeared upon one of the stands and addressed the assembled multitude in a neat and appropriate speech. A grand torchlight procession of Wide-Awakes in the evening closed the day's proceedings. The utmost enthusiasm prevailed.

We are in receipt of the details of the foreign news by the Canadian, which reached Farther Point yesterday. The Atlantic Telegraph Company announce the failure of all attempts to restore the American end of the Atlantic cable. The American horses had been beaten in all the Goodwood races. Lord PALMERSTON's speech on the naval defences of England had caused a great sensation in France. Fears are expressed of a rupture between the two countries in consequence. There is nothing new from Sicily. The Pope refuses to adopt the measures recommended by France, and says if they are forced upon him he will abandon his State. Fears are entertained that GARIBALDI may suddenly invade the Papal territory. Great excitement prevails against the Turks in Russia, on account of the massacre in Syria.

The steamship Europa arrived yesterday with foreign advices of the 29th ult. The political news is unimportant. Breadstuffs are reported firm at the advance reported by the Canadian.

A despatch from St. Louis states that BARRETT is elected to Congress from that District, for the short term, by a majority of 160. This was brought about by a coalition of the BELL and EVERETT party with the Democrats, they having no candidate in the field. BLAIR's majority for the long term is 1,300. The returns from the interior of the State indicate a close vote on Governor, with the chances in favor of SAMUEL ORR, the BELL-EVERETT candidate.

MONTAGUE, the clerk who recently decamped from Cincinnati in company with MCDOUGALL, of the firm of WEST & MCDOUGALL, commission merchants, taking some $35,000 belonging to the firm, was arrested at Toronto yesterday. Some $25,000 of the missing money was found in his trunks.

The BRECKINRIDGE men of New York have nominated JAMES T. BRADY, of New York city, for Governor, with a full State and Electoral ticket.

A severe shock of an earthquake was felt in various parts of Kentucky, yesterday.

Our Maritime Force.

Mr. DONALD MCKAY has an interesting article in the Boston Commercial Bulletin, contrasting our navy with the maritime forces of England and France. The following recapitulation showing the description and number of vessels constituting the navy of each of these Powers, we copy from Mr. MCKAY's article:

THE BRITISH NAVY.

	No.	Guns.	Horse Power.
Screw steamers...Frigates, with 8,234			88,725
Paddle-wheel steamers..110 " 902			27,380
Total of steamers.....495 "		9,136	111,105
Sailing ships.....197 "		6,159
Grand total.....692 "		15,316	111,105

THE FRENCH NAVY.

	No.	Guns.	Horse power.
Steamers.....	268	5,500	77,810
Sailing vessels.....	180	2,923
Grand Total.....	448	8,422	77,810

THE UNITED STATES NAVY.

	No.	Guns.
Steamers.....	33	459
Sailing vessels.....	45	1,317
Grand Total.....	78	2,306

RECAPITULATION.

1. STEAMERS.

	No.	Guns.
England.....	475	9,136
France.....	268	5,500
United States.....	33	459

2. SAILING SHIPS.

	No.	Guns.
England.....	170	6,159
France.....	180	2,923
United States.....	45	1,919

By the middle of next year, when the ships that are now constructing will have been finished, the British fleet will count 735 vessels with 17,099 guns, and 132,788 horse power. Accordingly the French navy is in guns only a little over one-half as strong as the English navy, and the United States not a great deal over one-quarter as strong as that of France, or one-eighth the strength of the British navy.

As steamers now-a-days constitute the principle maritime power, it will be seen at a glance, what a disadvantage the United States would labor under in case of a sudden war with any of the Great Powers.

THE TRUE MODEL OF INDEPENDENT JOURNALISM.—There is an interesting paper published at Grand Junction, Tennessee, called The Quid Nunc, which rejoices in three editors who cannot agree upon a Presidential candidate, and consequently the paper supports both BRECKINRIDGE and DOUGLAS.—The manner in which this is done is curious On one page, edited by Col. D. B. GALLY and Dr. N. H. PREWITT, are the names of DOUGLAS and JOHNSON, under the head "National Democratic Ticket," together with a paragraph stating that the other side of the paper is a separate and distinct institution, with which they have nothing to do. Turning to the other side, edited by R. G. ADAMS, the reader finds the names of BRECKINRIDGE and LANE, with the reading, "Only True National Democratic Ticket," and it is gravely announced that "the outside of this paper is a separate and distinct department." The Quid Nunc, we may add, is thirteen inches long, by seven inches wide; there are four pages, and the last of these is absorbed in advertisements for runaway negroes.

THE "LITTLE GIANT" seems to be ignored entirely in the Southern contest, the whole thing being between BRECKINRIDGE and BELL. Even the Richmond Enquirer admits that BELL and EVERETT will carry Virginia unless there is a thorough and cordial union of the Democracy.

So it goes. The BELL men at the North are selling out to DOUGLAS, and the DOUGLAS men at the South are selling out to BELL, so that in both cases those cost tails are sure to come nearer the ground than ever.

THE ELECTION OF FRANK BLAIR.—The result of the election in St. Louis is a triumphant vindication of Mr. BLAIR. He is elected for the long term by a handsome majority. This will be hailed all over the country with unbounded delight. Mr. BLAIR is one of the staunch Republicans who will make up the next government, and put their shoulders to the wheel of Reform.

The Meaning of the Meteor.

A correspondent of the World settles at last the meaning of the recent brilliant meteor which flashed across the Heavens. He says it did not announce the coming of the Prince, nor did it figure the Great Eastern fizzle, but—

"It referred, sir, to the political condition of this country at this moment, and most curiously, as any one may see, illustrated the character of the presidential crisis. It showed the facts and the fate of the existing contest, and I could see the democracy issuing first as a single bright body, then broken into two near the zenith, then throwing off a number of smaller crepitating bodies, and then vanishing under a dark bank of clouds somewhere in the eastern horizon.

Please mark the place this fire-ball came from—the Northwest. Just so; the Little Giant issued from that very quarter, rejoicing to run its course. The meteor neared the zenith, and broke in two. Palpably the Charleston split, and the second body, racing alongside the first, was Breckinridge. Then those other curious globes of light flung out were, of course, Bell, Everett, Lincoln, Hamlin, Gerrit Smith, Houston, and the rest of our minor contestants. Who else?

Mark now the end of those two greater bodies. They plunged into a BLACK cloud (read that adjective in small caps) toward the east and disappeared over the ocean.—Precisely so. Democracy vanishes under the dark influences of Down East. It is under a cloud and quite at sea, as everybody may easily perceive, and, unless the approaching comet of Charles V. should bring it some favorable augury, it is clearly doomed, on the plain showing of the meteor.

I write this to save Agassiz, Bond, Mitchell, Meriam, and the rest, any further trouble. Let them cudgel their brains no longer respecting our meteor. I am sorry to give such a reading of it, being a democrat of the truest and most steadfast sort—that is, a mere theoretic, who trembles at no decapitation, nor runs with any convention machine, nor writes any wonderfully clumsy cacologies in abuse of a poor bothered old President—no worker, but A SEER."

THE Wabash Plaindealer, the only DOUGLAS organ in Wabash Co, Ind., and the only leading one in the Eleventh District, has hauled down the names of DOUGLAS and JOHNSON, and announced its purpose to support LINCOLN and HAMLIN hereafter. We noticed recently, that the editor, after getting up a spicy issue in behalf of DOUGLAS on Friday, had joined the Wabash Republican Club on Friday night, but doubted if it were anything more than a quiz. It now appears to be a real and sincere change.

A NEWSPAPER OFFICE DESTROYED.—The Alleghanian, a paper published in Wellsville, New York, heretofore in the hands of DOUGLAS, recently changed hands, being purchased by a widow lady in that place. Some parties, fearing that it would be published hereafter as a BRECKINRIDGE paper, resolved to destroy the press, and on Tuesday night it was broken into by some ruffians, and a portion of the type, leads and rules, were taken out and thrown into the Genesee river, and several columns of matter were pied, and other damage done to the fixtures of said office.

The Banner of Light (Spiritualist) in an essay entitled "What is man" thus forcibly elucidates the blessings which Philosophy and progress are showering on this benighted race:

"Within each created thing, then, whether animate or inanimate, resides a motive impulse urging it to the performance of its being. The duck repairs to the water, the fish to the sea, the bird to the air. The ox ruminates, and the goose cackles. Man follows his interior instigator."

This would seem to refute completely the popular theory that he always follows his nose.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Chicago Times describing a DOUGLAS gathering in the country says:

It was a glorious "love-feast" of the Democracy; a most glorious upheaving of the lovers of our country and its grand institutions. A sumptuous old-fashioned barbecue satisfied the hunger of all.

In intelligible English this means that the nigger made them all sick and after a vomit they being hungry—eat an ox.

THE NEW STAMPED ENVELOPE.—The contractor, G. F. NESBITT, of New York, has commenced to fill the orders of the Postmasters on the Department for the new self-ruling stamped envelope, combining the latest improvements. He is now prepared, as he believes, not only to grapple with the present excess in the current demand, but to keep pace with any increase likely to result from the popularity of the new envelope. Among the orders to be filled are those of some thousands of Postmasters, who have never attempted to sell the old stamped envelope.

WISCONSIN FRUIT GROWERS' ASSOCIATION.—The annual exhibition of this association will be held in Madison on the 24th to the 29th of September, inclusive, in connection with the State Fair. The Superintendent of the Fruit and Flower Department are Mr. and Mrs. A. G. HANFORD of Waukesha. Evening meetings of the Fruit Growers will be held, where it is hoped a free discussion of the merits and demerits of different varities will be had. This promises to be an interesting feature in our annual Agricultural Fairs.

CENTRAL AMERICA.—The Central-American countries are in a turbulent and unhappy condition. Three States of New Guatamala are at war with the rest; and one has declared itself independent. Venezuela is overrun with robbers and assassins, and its government seems paralyzed. Mexico is involved in a civil war that seems almost interminable. Fillibusters from Guatemala are making depredations in Chiapas; and fillibusters from the United States are on their way through Honduras to make depredations in Nicaragua. A highly interesting state of affairs, truly.

IT IS rumored that PAUL MORPHY intends returning to Paris, and what will be sorry news for his many admirers in this country, probably fix his permanent residence there with J. D. SYDRANDT, Esq., Swedish and Norwegian Consul at New Orleans, and a leading buyer of cotton at that place, who lately married his sister, and has recently removed his family to Paris. Previously to his departure for France, MORPHY will visit New York.

THE ZOUAVES.—Three Chicago juveniles went through their evolutions before the President and Miss LANE, after dining at the White House, on Saturday last. After which His Excellency made a speech, Col. ELLSWORTH made another, and the corps proceeded in front of the City Hall, to delight the Washingtonians.

OFF FOR SPRINGFIELD.—Fifty car loads of live Republicans left Chicago Tuesday evening, for Springfield. Chicago presented an exciting spectacle. Enthusiasm abounded and all were anticipating a glorious time.

This train will return to Chicago Thursday evening.

THE Richmond Examiner reports that John Mitchell has gone to France at the invitation of the Emperor Napoleon, who has conferred on him an office.

IT IS SAID that the speeches which the Prince of Wales reads on reception occasions, are written for him by the Duke of Newcastle, one of his suite.

PAUL MORPHY sailed from New Orleans for New York on the 1st inst.

New York Breckinridge Convention.

SYRACUSE, Aug. 7

Afternoon session.—H. S. Randall was chosen permanent President, and the Convention proceeded to business. A number of gentlemen were put in nomination for candidates for Governor, among whom were Jas. T. Brady, Charles O'Connor, and J. A. Dix. Among the resolutions are the following:

That the National Convention of New York have no new principles to proclaim, and no new doctrine to adopt, but to renew the protest against the absorbtion of all other political parties in the discussion of the Slavery question, and to repeat the question whether this Union is to be preserved for white men, or destroyed on account of negroes; that we expressly oppose and repudiate the plan for interfering with the rights of slaveholders in the Territories, by the action of Congress, and the plan of Douglas for interfering with them by unfriendly territorial legislation; and that our principles stand defended by the Supreme Court of the U. S. in the Dred Scott decision; that we adopt the platform adopted by Cushing's Convention at Baltimore.

The resolutions were drawn up by Gideon J. Tucker, and were received with applause.

The Convention then adjourned to find, by telegraph, some man in the State who would accept the nomination for Governor.

GENERAL HOUSTON TO RETIRE FROM THE FIELD.—The Houston Telegraph says that Mr. HOUSTON will quietly withdraw from the Presidential contest after the State election, and that paper adds:

"The two ablest opposition papers in the east, the Marshall Flag and the Rusk Enquirer, have left his standard, the one for Bell, and the other for Breckinridge. One of the most popular journals in middle Texas, the Waco Southern Democrat, and one that probably contributed as much to Houston's election last year as any other in the State, has told its readers that there must not be a divided South, and true to the instincts of patriotism, the editor is giving all his strength to the constitutional democracy. In the west, the leading opposition paper in San Antonio, the Herald, has adopted the same course, and now advocates the election of Breckinridge, as the only hope for the South.

"The course of these papers is an indication of popular sentiment, and that sentiment, our readers may be assured, is vastly in favor of supporting the Democracy in the gallant fight they are making for the Union and the rights of the States."

A LIFE INSURANCE CASE—INTERESTING DECISION.—A case was recently decided by Judge Allen involving a novel and important question. P. S. Greene, a resident of Little Falls, N. Y., a few years ago, being then unmarried, procured an insurance, of $3,000 upon his own name, and delivered the policy as a gift to his aged, widowed and dependent mother. The gift was by parol, with no written assignment. Subsequently Mr. Greene married, but he kept up the payments on his policy, and handed the receipts over to his mother, by his will he also gave the policy to her; after his death, and in settling up his estate, it was found that the personal property was not sufficient to pay his debt; the executors took this policy, procured the money upon it from the insurance company, and used the money to pay his debts, before resorting to a sale of the real estate. The mother brought an action against the executors for the money, and the case was tried before Judge Allen, who held the delivery of the policy and of the subsequent receipts to the mother was a donation, valid and binding, without an assignment in writing.—Rome (N. Y.) Sentinel.

A NOVEL METHOD OF PRESERVING FISH.—Mr. Brown, of Troy, N. Y., has discovered a rather novel and sure method of preserving fish, sweet, and with their original flavor, during the excessive heat of summer. He takes a large cake of ice, and after having bored a hole large enough to suit the purpose, he deposites the fish in it, and closes up the aperture made by means of a plug of ice. This shortly freezes, and makes the whole a solid mass, ready for transportation to any desired point. Fish preserved in this way will last for ten or twelve days, or as long as the ice will remain in an unmelted state. This method of preserving fish, and game is of great use when they are about to be sent away, and will probably supersede the old method of packing in ice and sawdust.

INFIDEL EFFORTS WITH THE JAPANESE.—The New Haven Journal says it has the following statement from a reliable source:

"Two pitiable men of Philadelphia, Thos. Curtis and J. L. Hatch, in their excess of infidel zeal, wrote a joint letter to the Japanese Embassy, warning them, during their stay in this country and on their return voyage, against "the efforts of Christian priests, who would interfere with the Japanese people and their religious institutions," by trying to induce them 'to look favorably on the Christian religion.' These men inform the princes that 'the great majority of the scientific and philosophical men of this country have no confidence whatever in the truth of the Christian religion.'"

A 1,500 POUND CHEESE.—We understand Mr. Robbins, the model farmer, is getting up an enormous cheese for exhibition at the State Fair. He proposes that it shall weigh something like 1,200 or 1,500 lbs., and if convenient, he will make it come up to a ton weight. Good luck to the project, and we have been handed this note on that subject:

"I have been told there is a farmer in Dane County, that is making a cheese that is to weigh 1,500 lbs. If that is so, I propose that the party in Wisconsin that wins the Presidential election, should buy the cheese and present it to the President to be sent to the Emperor of Japan."—Madison Argus.

A SEVERE hail storm passed over this village on Wednesday afternoon. Many of the hail stones which fell would weigh five and six ounces. We understand Mr. Nabar picked up one which weighed seven ounces, and Mr. Munn measured one which was over ten inches in circumference. We picked up one which was over three inches in diameter.—We have often heard of, but never before saw, hail stones larger than hen's eggs. As the storm was attended with but little wind it did not cause much damage, as it would have done had there been more wind. We have often heard of its raining pitchforks, but never heard befors of its raining icebergs.—Shawanaw Co. Journal.

CAUTIOUS MEN.—Some men use words as riflemen do bullets. They say little. The few words used go right to the mark. They let you talk, and guide with their eye and face, on and on, till what you say can be answered in a word or two, and then they lance out a sentence, pierce the matter to the quick, and are done. You never know where you stand with them. Your conversation falls into their mind, as rivers fall into deep chasms, and are lost from sight by its depth and darkness. They will sometimes surprise you with a few words that go right to the mark like a gun-shot, and then they are silent again, as if they were reloading.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Thursday last, Mr. Joseph Colwell, of Raymond, a man 65 years of age, was horribly mangled by the running away of his team attacked to a reaper. He was dragged some distance under the sickle. His right shoulder was dislocated, two of his ribs were fractured on his left side, in fact his body was literally skinned from his right shoulder down At last accounts he was doing well, and is likely to recover. Dr. Kitchinman, we understand, dressed his wounds.—Racine Dem.

A LITERARY DISCOVERY of some importance has been made at Liverpool, England. A papyrus brought from Thebes by Rev. Henry Stobart, and now in Mr. Mayer's museum of antiquities, was found to contain the 16th chapter of St. Matthew, written in the Greek Uncial character, which gives a new version of the long misunderstood part of the 24th verse, relating to the passage of a camel through the eye of a needle.

M. MICHELET'S BOOKS and opinions on the "Woman Question" do not even meet with general acceptance in France, for which latitude they are thought to be broad. Dentu, of Paris, has just issued "LaFemme; Refutation des Propositions de M. Michelet," by M. Marie Hess—a somewhat violent attack on the celebrated professor's "L'Amour" and "La Femme."

LIFE AT SARATOGA must have undergone a "sea change." A letter from there, tho' claiming that the company is large, yet says, "One cannot help noticing the entire absence of the extreme gayety and frivolity of fashionable life. Not a ball has yet been given, not even a 'hop;' and the dancing in the evening is more like an amusement for the little children, than a recreation for the older guests."

Departure of Steamers.

FOR CHICAGO.

The steamer Gazelle will leave Olmsted's dock every evening (Saturdays excepted) at 7 o'clock for the above and intermediate ports.

FOR TWO RIVERS.

The steamer Huron leaves Olmsted's dock, every evening at 5 o'clock, for Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers.

FOR BUFFALO.

Screw steamers, with good accommodations, leave the different transportation docks every day, for Buffalo.

FOR OSWEGO AND ODDENSBURGH.

One of the Northern Transportation Co's screw teamers sails for the above ports every day, from the the Company's dock at the M. & Miss. R. R. depot, touching at nearly all intermediate ports.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.

The Collingwood Line of screw steamers leave semi-weekly from Dousman's dock, foot of East Water Street, connecting at Collingwood with the Northern Railway of Canada, for the East.

FOR RACINE DAILY.

The screw steamer Wabash Valley makes weekly trips to the above port starting from Olmsted's dock

EXAMINATION OF THE SEVENTH WARD HIGH SCHOOL.—The examination of the young ladies and gentlemen connected with the Seventh Ward High School, commenced on Tuesday at 2 o'clock. There was a large attendance of friends and parents, and the exercises were conducted throughout in a manner to reflect the greatest credit both upon Mr. MCKINDLEY, the teacher, and upon the pupils.

We could not help noticing a marked difference in the acquirements of these young people and in many exhibitions of schools which we have attended before. It is customary to drill the scholars on a certain formula and then parade them as models of precocious intellects. Not so here. It is manifest that Mr. MCKINDLEY never forces his tender twigs. If they are bent it is as the sun bends a tendril, slowly and surely. No superficial cramming of incomprehensible elements. No drilling on a specialty for the sake of an exhibition. What they have learned they know; and it has manifestly been the desire of the teacher to inculcate and instil rather than to marshal and train. He has inspired the young folks with that emulation which proceeds from a love of knowledge, and which so many of our teachers are entirely ignorant of. All this we say is apparent We noticed that it was of less importance to the teacher that the scholar should render an author's words correctly than that he should understand the author's idea, even though he could not express it. In the examination of the Latin classes the pupils evinced, not only a readiness to answer and a familiarity with the grammar, which was highly creditable, but there was a freedom in their answers which showed they had thought over the lessons; and this every parent will admit is a point not usually observable in school examinations.

We attended the school yesterday and were interested throughout with the exercises. Mr. MCKINDLEY has won for himself the reputation of being a thorough teacher, understanding enough of human nature to be able to mould it, and possessing all those genial qualities which win the confidence and secure the respect of his students. As a disciplinarian, he is second to none in the State.

The exercises at this school will be continued to-day, and this evening the exhibition takes place at Albany Hall.

MUNICIPAL COURT, AUG. 8.—Bridget O'Neil, vagrancy. Allowed to go on parole.

Alfred Ellis, drunk. Fine and costs $3.50. Paid.

Sophia Reinhard and Catharine Wenghin, vagrancy. Fined $10 each and costs. Sophia Reinhard committed, and Catharine Wenghin allowed to go on parole, this being her first offence.

John Calligan, assault and battery. Allowed to settle on payment of costs. Paid.

John Linn and John S——, assault and battery. Case continued to August 9th, at 9 A. M.

Peter Tins, violating ordinance. Case continued to August 221.

Patrick ——, violating ordinance. Fine and costs $3,10. Paid.

H. Buckminister, threatening to prosecute, &c., to extort money. Continued to Aug. 10th, at 9 A. M.

BLOSSOM REDIVIVUS.—For the benefit of all the other BLOSSOMS in town, we will state here that our BLOSSOM is not a Blossom at all; or if at all, only a figurative bud. We will further state that he died last night at ten o'clock precisely, and was buried with the honors of war, somewhere on Walker's Point. As a particular friend of ours, we forbear making any further mention of his name. On his tombstone will be inscribed:

DIED OF CALORIC,
IMAGINARY BLOSSOM,
Who, in the first day of his existence,
Blossomed, bloomed, and bust,
Seat—git out in peace.

LADIES AND FLOWERS.—"Red cheeks are only oxygen in another shape. Girls anxious to wear a pair will find them where the roses do—out of doors." "Will they, indeed!" remarked Miss JOSEPHINE HOOPS, as she laid down the number of the paper containing the extract. "Well, if doing as the roses do will help a lady to color, one might as well never get up at all—for I'm certain sure that the flowers stay in their beds all the day. Now, if I'm ever metamorphosed into anything horticultural, I hope it will be into a camelia—they are the only vegetables that ever get a chance to go to the opera—gracious goodness!"

PERHAPS there was a right royal good time at the North Point yesterday, and perhaps not. There was only two thousand people present; and they did nothing under heaven but enjoy themselves as they should.

THIS MORNING, at 10 o'clock, WALL has another furniture sale among the various articles is an office desk, mahogany sofa, and also at the same time a stock of millinery goods, ribbons, &c., will be sold.

ON A PRIVATE HOUSE in a public street in this city, is frequently hung a parrot and cage. The former has been taught to blaspheme "like a trooper." This is the last and best exhibition of depravity which has come to our notice.

WE RECEIVED a call yesterday from THOS. KEAN, of the Buffalo Republic. He is on his way to Oshkosh, where he will remain a short time. Mr. KEAN thinks Milwaukee almost as fine as a place as Buffalo.

IT IS NOW SAID that the U. S. steamer Michigan is on her way to this port with two brass bands, several marines and more pistols to help—keep BOOTH out of Milwaukee. Let 'em come.

Obituary.

Died in Milwaukee, of consumption, on the 3d inst, Hon. W. Riley Smith, formerly of Wyoming county, N. Y.

We feel as though we could not let the above notice pass without paying a slight tribute to an old and faithful friend. We had well known Mr. Smith for the last twenty years, and had learned to value his friendship, his intelligence, his unwavering integrity, and all the stern virtues of his life. Often have we talked with him of the philosophy and religion of life, and of all the hopes of the future, and as often do we feel that we have been benefited by his close reasoning and candid discussions.

Judge Smith was born in Hubberton, Vt., July 14, 1807. About ten years of his youth were spent with his father on a farm in O, and in efforts to procure a good education.—He studied law with Hon John B Skinner in Genesee, now Wyoming county, N. Y., and on commencing practice at once took rank as one of the most accurate, clear sighted and able lawyers of Western New York. Afterwards he was appointed Side Judge in Genesee county; and after the formation of Wyoming, he held the office of District Attorney six years, and the office of first Judge five years in Wyoming county. His legal ability and accuracy may be inferred from the fact that not a single bill drawn by him while Dist. Att'y proved to be defective in any particular. And we think the people of Wyoming county will bear us out in the assertion that a more intelligent, impartial or better Judge never occupied the Bench of that county.

Eight years ago he removed to Milwaukee, mainly for the benefit of his health, which had not been very good for several years.—While in Milwaukee he attended strictly to his business and the care of his family; not caring, on account of the state of his health, to engage in any public business, or to make extensive acquaintance. Four years ago last winter, being necessarily exposed considerably to severe weather, he took a succession of colds, which fastened the consumption upon him, which continued until his death. During his sickness of over four years, which he bore without complaint, everything that a devoted wife and daughter, with good judgment and ample means, could do has been done to ease his sufferings and prolong his life; and through these means no doubt his life has been greatly prolonged. But he has gone, and the home, in which he was ardently loved, is desolate. He died as he had for several years lived, in the firm faith of blessed immortality.

We have no disposition to write an eulogy upon his life, which was its own eulogy.—He was not without faults; but his deep-seated, abiding virtues were so many in comparison with his faults; that the lustre of the former seem almost entirely to obliterate the shades of the latter. In his death Heaven has gained what the world has lost.—Kilbourn City Mirror.

THE REPUBLICAN WIGWAM.—At a large and enthusiastic meeting at the new Republican Wigwam, in the Sixth Ward, on the evening of August 6, the Hon. J. A. PHELPS was called to the chair, and DR. SELBY elected Secretary. On motion of Mr. SEAMAN of the Second Ward, a committee of five were appointed by the chair to report at a future meeting a constitution, by-laws and suitable names for officers to govern this organization. Mr SEAMAN, JONAS BROWN, F. OTTO, AVERY HILL, and G. W. LUITINK were appointed said committee.

It was also moved that a committee of three be appointed to procure a flag for the use of club. AVERY HILL, Mr. SEAMAN, and J BROWN, were appointed said committee. The meeting then adjourned to evening, to organize and elect officers for the club.

SCHOOL EXHIBITION TO-NIGHT.—The exhibition of the young ladies and gentlemen of the Seventh Ward School takes place this evening, at Albany Hall; tickets only 25 cents.

This exhibition will be composed of original essays, humorous and grave, (some of which will be in character,) dialogues, congressional debates, in character, orations of historical and local interest, music, poetry, and lectures. All of the pieces are short and pointed, all of the young gentlemen are well up, and all of the ladies confident of pleasing the many friends who will be there, anxious to see and to hear. It will be, in a word, quite an educational festival, and will draw out an audience quite as brilliant as some of the operatic companies.

REPUBLICAN MEETING AT THE WIGWAM.—There is to be another meeting of the Republicans of the Second, Sixth and Ninth Wards, at their Wigwam, this evening, to complete their organization, and transact some other business pertaining to the campaign.

CANARY BIRD FOUND.—Whoever has lost a canary bird lately in this vicinity, may hear of the feathered pet by calling at the SENTINEL office.

LOST.—A gold breast pin with the initials "M. U. to O. U." The finder will confer a favor by leaving it at the SENTINEL office.

ANOTHER warm day yesterday. Thermometer up to John.

WIDE AWAKES meet to night. Let there be a full attendance.

RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS.—We are not in favor of universal boasting (a system often employed by others) of the celebrity of this or that medicine, and we keep our praise until we have positive knowledge of the value or virtue of an article. We judge of the tree by its fruits, and when we find a medicine with really curative powers, we at once come out and recommend it to the public. In the present instance, we cordially recommend to our readers Dr. Richardson's Sherry Wine Bitters.

We know of nothing to excel this for the objects it proposes to undertake.

The Sherry Wine Bitters are for sale by Greene & Button, John H. Tesch, C. H. Gardiner & Co., Lafayette Lake, and druggists generally in Milwaukee and the State, aug9j96d1w&wlm

Disunion.

If there are any grannies outside of the BELLEVERETT phalanx, who doubt that this Union is destined to be subdued let them take comfort from the predictions of the South, which will establish, beyond a doubt, the difficult question. The Union, which has been on the verge of dissolution for so many years, has been reserved for final destruction until LINCOLN is elected; and then the North and the South will fly away into space, and all our liberty, prosperity and happiness go down in the gulf of oblivion. At least, so the Southern politicians are telling us, and it is curious that their comprehension of the dissolving views grows stronger just in proportion as the election of ABRAHAM LINCOLN becomes clearer.

This is the manner in which the crafty and unscrupulous politicians have regulated the apprehensions of the people for the past twenty years. Attributing the support which New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Indiana gave to Buchanan four years ago to the threats of secession and dissolution in the event of the success of FREMONT, they have been encouraged to try the same experiment this year.

As far as their effect on the Northern people is concerned, Mr. KEITT and Mr. YANCEY may save their breath and credit.

In an article designed to show that the disunion scheme of the South is nothing less than the renewal of an old plot to drive the North into a state of submission, the Nashville Patriot refers to Gov. WISE's treasonable letter of the 15th of September, 1860, to none but Governors of the Democratic States, in which he proposes a formal Convention of those gentlemen at Raleigh, to take measures for assisting the inauguration of Col. FREMONT, whose election then appeared certain. The circulation of this letter had the desired effect in Pennsylvania, and the Democratic Governors laughed in their sleeves at the credulity of Northern opinion. Finding, however, that they caught a Tartar in Mr. BUCHANAN, who, though the willing servant of certain Southern politicians, did not take the belligerent Governor of Virginia into his confidence, and the Governor's cronies, YANCEY & Co., they organized a scheme to force the Administration into their measures by threats of dissolving the Government even in the hands of the facile creature at the head of it.

The Patriot thus refers to the efforts of the factions to get up an excitement, and explain how they conducted their operations:

"The machinery of Southern Conventions was resorted to, and the public memory will easily revert to the Montgomery and Vicksburg assemblies, in which the vilest treason against the Federal Government was spouted usque ad nauseam. It was in one of these bodies that a Mr. Spratt immortalized his queer name, by the advocacy of the re-opening of the African slave trade, either within or without the Union, and threatening to make the plains of the South another Lexington and Concord, if the General Government dared to take their newly imported African slaves from them. He was followed by Mr. Bennett, formerly a member of Congress from Mississippi, who swore that his State would have the African slave trade reopened, either peaceable or forcible. This ventilation of their policy was followed by Lamar's slave trading voyage in the 'Wanderer.'

"The next step taken by these conspirators was the formation of the 'Southern Party,' the programme of which was promulgated in August, 1858. The Constitution urged the deliberate severance of the Union at once, and provided for a provisional government of the withdrawing States. Senator Iverson, of Georgia, in his speech in the Senate on the 6th of January, 1859, alluded to this scheme, and said it depended for its execution solely on the contingency, that they would not elect their own President in 1860. Then came the movements of the legislatures of South Carolina and Alabama, the latter of which appropriated $200,000 for the contingency contemplated.

"Following these threats—all designed to operate on Northern opinion against Mr. Douglas—came Mr. Yancy's letters and edicts in April, 1859, which were followed up by decrees to the same effect by the State Conventions of Texas and Louisiana."

The more recent exhibitions of these conspirators, beginning with the sitting of the Charleston Convention and coming down to the present hour, the Nashville Patriot handles with rare skill, but as they are so fresh in the public mind, they need little more than a reference to them. The whole animus of the conspirators is to be found in the language of Robert G. Scott, of Alabama, who unfurled the flag of Breckinridge at Richmond, with the war cry of 'Protection for Slavery in the Territories or Blood!'

THE inefficiency and stupidity of the Administration party render them powerless, for both good and evil.—News of yesterday.

The Administration party is the radical root of the Democratic party. We are happy to see that its inefficiency and stupidity are acknowledged. Would not the inefficiency and stupidity of DOUGLAS be finally acknowledged if the people should permit his election! We think so.

The News would then give us another modification of the evil, and condemn DOUGLAS as it now does BUCHANAN.

The argument of these men, amounts to just this. "We know we have failed in our expectations but try another sample of the same thing and our word for it, you will be satisfied."

EASIER SAID THAN DONE.—But it matters little, in this State, or in any other, how the friends of Stephen or Stephen A., Douglas, vote.—He is beaten, in any event.—SENTINEL.

How easy it is for men to be mistaken. The SENTINEL was quite as confident that Pierce was beaten in 1852 and Buchanan in 1856, as it is that Douglas is now.—We are surprised that it has profited so little by the lessons of the past.—News.

It is owing entirely to the fact that PIERCE and BUCHANAN were elected that DOUGLAS will not be. Our astute friends ought to be able to see this. The greatest stumbling block in the way of Democracy is these very gentlemen, whose election is still a matter of boasting to the News.

Personal.

THE Springfield Republican announces the resignation of Chief Justice SHAW, of Massachusetts.

EX-PRESIDENT PIERCE has received the degree of L. L. D., from Dartmouth College, New Hampshire.

THE New York Sun, one of the oldest papers in that city, has changed hands. MOSES S. BEACH, under whose management it attained its present prosperity, retires to-day from its direction, his place being taken by WM. C. CHURCH, Esq., for the last five years publisher of the New York Chronicle.

THE intimate friends of BUCHANAN fear that the harrassing controversies which are thrust upon him from every side will wear him out physically before the expiration of his term of office. The latest reports state that he is troubled with night sweats, and is obliged to confine himself to a most severely rigorous sytem of diet.

The Toledo Blade says: "To show the extent to which Mr. JOHNSON is ignored by his party, we may state that a friend of ours meeting a Democrat with a DOUGLAS medal attached to his watch-chain, the other day, examined it, and found the phiz of the Little Giant on one side, but on turning it over, the likeness of JOHNSON was not there—it had been Dug. out.

REV. JAS. MARTINEAU, brother of Mrs. HARRIET MARTINEAU, and the most eminent Unitarian theologian in the world, will, says the London Inquirer, sail for Boston in August. The Reverend Professor will visit Canada, and travel through the Northern States, preaching in New York, Boston and other places, and will return at the commencement of the Manchester College session, October 16.

SUIT AGAINST THE DIRECTORS OF THE GREAT EASTERN.—A suit has been commenced in the Circuit Court of the United States by Messrs. GILBERT & ARMSTRONG, who claim to be the assignees of a patent belonging to JAMES E. SMITH, of Greenport, whose invention was a scheme for combining the use of the screw with the side wheels, in the propulsion of vessels. Mr. SMITH, it is alleged, submitted this invention to Messrs. BRUNEL and STEPHENSON, who pronounced it impracticable; yet substantially the same plan has been tried in the Great Eastern.—The damages are laid at $50,000.

The N. Y. Leader announces that the Dodo Club of that city intend giving a magnificent entertainment to Baron ROTHSCHILD of Paris, now visiting Lake George, on his return to New York. Delmonico has received orders to furnish one of his superb dinners for a hundred guests. JAMES T. BRADY will preside, assisted by EDMOND L. HEARN, Esq., and Judge DALY; and the design in contemplation is, to make the five-score guests an embodiment of all that is most gifted, brilliant, remarkable and wealthy, within thirty miles of the City Hall. Tickets are placed at $20, each, to be advanced to $30, should the rush for them prove excessive.

MORE HELP.—Hon. Edward Archbold, of Monroe Co., Ohio, long one of the most determined and radical Democrats in this State comes out for Lincoln and Hamlin Mr. Archibold was for many years a member of one or the other branch of the General Assembly. Thorough and persistent as he was in his democratic ideas, during our four years acquaintance with him, he always had the candid, with opponents even of being a sincere and conscientious man. It is no matter of surprise, therefore, that he repudiated membership in either faction of the so-called Democratic party.—Toledo Blade.

SHOWS A DISUNIONIST, a man that has been regarded always as an ultra "fire-eater," and we will show you a Breckinridge and Lane man.—Rome (Ga.) Southron and Advertiser.

We would "show" our cotemporary Mr. Herschel V. Johnson, Mr. Pierre Soule, Mr. Hambleton, of the Southern Confederacy, Mr. John Forsyth, of the Mobile Register, Mr. John J. Seibels, of the Confederation, and Mr. Gaulden of Georgia, all noted Disunionists; men, most of whom are "unequivocally" for Disunion, unless the Compromise Measures are "wiped out," and the African Slave Trade revived, and who are all Douglas and Johnson men. For further particulars we refer to Governor Johnson's speeches, Mr. Hambleton's prospectus, and Mr. Gaulden's pro-Douglas harangues at Charleston and Baltimore.—Washington Constitution.

Mrs. Swisshelm has brought her obstinate husband to terms at last. Having inflicted upon the unfortunate man some twenty years of connubial infelicity, she left him and started a paper, in which she has given him particular fits whenever an opportunity occurred. Having been dumped into the Mississippi once or twice, the concern broke for want of support, and the strong minded female has taken to lecturing on her domestic life, with a view to scandalize her husband as much as possible. One or two demonstrations were enough, and the obdurate Swisshelm, who has stood out through everything else, "come down" when the lecturer appeared, and promises to do the handsome thing if she will "dry up." Her dodge worked successfully, and she says, in a letter to the Pittsburgh Chronicle, that she hopes "to make an arrangement by which our affairs shall not again come before the public." Decidedly cool! What she calls "an arrangement" most people would designate as black mail.

A BIT OF ROYAL GOSSIP.—Those who remember the early years of the Queen of England will not forget that a tenderness was suspected between her august young ladyship and the heir of Elphinstone. This bit of gossip, which no degree of vigilance could keep entirely quiet, was peculiarly interesting to those on both sides of the water who had more sentiment than discretion, and who cared not for interests of state, so that the course of true love might once run smooth. But interests of state are inexorable. Young Elphinstone was advised to travel, and was helped on his way by certain distinctions. When he returned he found the royal lady married. How much the heart of either was interested, will perhaps never be known. One thing is certain, that Baron Elphinstone never married. On his return to England he was appointed lord-in-waiting upon his royal mistress, but not a breath has ever fallen upon the public ear that could gratify the most curious or most delicate taste. He subsequently became Governor of Bombay, and rendered essential services to his government at the time of the Indian mutiny. He recently came home with shattered health, and survived his return but a little while.

AN OLD SOLDIER—RIGHT ABOUT FACE.—Gen. BENSON, of Morrow county, Ohio, is an old soldier and Democrat, but he has resolved to "train" with the factionists no longer. He has recently come out with a card urging his fellow soldiers of 1812 to vote Republican candidates, and in closing significantly says:

I have always been a democrat, and for several years have stuck to the party with the forlorn hope that it would return, like the Prodigal Son, acknowledging its sins, and resolving never to go astray again. But it still continues to "spend its substance with harlots and in riotous living," and I now absolve myself from all allegiance to it.—Editors friendly to the good cause please copy.

Brother soldiers, your well wisher,
E. WILLARD BENSON.

IMPUDENCE AND IMPOTENCE.—Whether the impudence of the Boobites is more disgusting than the impotence of the U. S. Marshal, is a question which we shall not attempt to decide.—News of yesterday.

Impudence is a virtue in politics when impotence is a crime. It is owing to this fact entirely, that the News makes a living.

HON. GEORGE R. BABCOCK.—It is with sincere pleasure that we publish to-day a report of the speech of Hon. George R. Babcock, on taking the Chair at the Lincoln Mass Meeting at Kremolin Hall, on Saturday night. Mr. Babcock has been a Whig-American, enjoying in an unusual measure the confidence and respect of all classes of citizens, both as a man of integrity and intellect. His avowal that in his judgment the contest lies between Lincoln and Douglas, and that no man of his antecedents can consistently support, either directly or indirectly, the latter, will have great weight in this section of the State with all true conservatives.

The signs of the times are cheering. Those men whose opinions we value, whose course is in itself a guaranty of rectitude and integrity, are falling into line so rapidly that we can well afford to say good-bye to the tradesmen in politics, and the auctioneers who are endeavoring to put up the remnant of a once noble and high-toned organization to the highest bidder.—Buffalo Com. Advertiser.

A Douglas Meeting up North.

WAUSAU, Wis., August, 1860.

Mr. EDITOR:—Last evening, we backwoodsmen were favored with a Douglas meeting—a regular gem in its way—and invested with about as much enthusiasm as a pauper's funeral, and attended by about as many mourners. By last week's Central, the mighty Douglas organ of Marathon county, we were informed in large types that G. L. PARK, editor of the Pinery, and R. McCLURE, of Stevens Point, would enlighten the citizens of this politically benighted region, on Tuesday evening, and inviting ALL to turn out, irrespective of party, to hear these distinguished (!) gentlemen deliver themselves of the paid Democratic ideas they were big with. At 7 o'clock the Douglas gun, (a small affair like its namesake, making a great noise, and doing little execution) blazed away; and this being the appointed signal, we repaired to the headquarters of the Marathon County Douglas Democratic Club, (a name that numbers as many letters as the Club does members.) Here, after all the crowd were assembled, we counted sixty-five noses, and about twenty of them belonged to good, staunch Republicans. Why, a dog fight in the streets of Wausau, at any hour will draw a bigger crowd and more Democrats.

G. L. PARK was introduced to the audience and held forth for about an hour, in a lugubrious argument, to vindicate the political tricks of their immaculate statesman, S. A. DOUGLAS. PARK is a practising lawyer, well known in this circuit, and enjoys—and deservedly, too—the reputation of being a shrewd lawyer, and meets, in his practice, with considerable success. Nature was rather chary of her gifts in the composition of friend PARK's intellect, and he owes his reputation entirely to indefatigable industry. Application is commendable in any business or profession, and it is gratifying to see an industrious man succeed; but our friend PARK makes a sad mistake when he comes before the people as a political orator. He has too much the manner of a pettifogging special pleader at a Justice's Court. He failed to raise a single murmur of applause during his whole argument. For the only decided hit during the evening, the audience are indebted to one TOM GRUNDY. TOM owns a mill some miles above here, and never comes to town without getting roaring drunk, and is as wild, reckless and noisy in in his sprees as a paid-off sailor. TOM has an idea that whiskey and Democracy are "one and inseperable," and is, therefore, the strongest kind of a Democrat. On this evening he was well charged with the "forty-rod" article, and felt particularly good.

"Kings may be blest, but Tom was glorious,
O'er a' the ills o' life victorious."

TOM listened for a long time to the speaking—concluded it was going to be a dry affair—stepping to a bar close by, he obtained a glass of lager for each of the Orators and President, telling them "they must drink, as they were all good Democrats." Lager never fails to bring down a Democratic crowd, and the applause which followed GRUNDY's disinterested kindness showed they could appreciate a good thing.

PARK's argument was devoted entirely to endeavors to reconcile the glaring inconsistencies of DOUGLAS' political aims, and we think every Democrat in the house was glad when he ended. He "could not see how so many men in the North, intelligent and sound on all other subjects, should be so insane on this one matter, and not be able to see it in the same light that he did." Alas, poor PARK, that little consideration in view talked of down at Washington this Spring, is a bad spectacle to look through.

McCLURE followed, in a milk-and-water speech—we guess his maiden effort in public speaking, for we never heard a speech of less merit in a country school lyceum. His low, blackguard anecdotes, gathered from such sources as the Milwaukee News and Cleveland Plaindealer, raised some laughter and a great deal of disgust. During the speeches the crowd gradually thinned out to pay their respects to lager, and when the last speaker ended there were not more than thirty persons in the hall. All were disappointed, and it will be some time before our Democrats go to Stevens Point again for political orators. Our county has a large Democratic majority, owing to the number of German emigrants who have settled here during the past three years, most of whom do not understand our language or politics, and are controlled by designing demagogues, who fatten on the offices they receive at their hands. It is but justice, however, to the Germans to say that as soon as they learn our language, become informed in our policy and affairs, they at once throw off the worse than European bondage of these political tyrants, come out good Republicans—true to their native instincts of liberty and justice. There are some Republicans here, "few and faint, yet fearless still," and they all go for "Old ABE."

Yours,
MARATHON CO. REPUBLICAN.

Trip to Bad Ax County—The Crops, Country, Etc., Etc.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

LA CROSSE, Aug. 7th 1860.

Having received an invitation to attend the Good Templars' celebration at Viroqua, Bad Ax Co., Wis., myself and seven others, all members of Twilight Lodge, No. 98, La Crosse, betook ourselves to horses and carriages, and wended our way to a country to the most of us new and never before seen.—Our road lay in a south-easterly direction, the first ten miles being across La Crosse prairie, and through Mormon Cooley, the latter being a rich and fertile valley, containing many very good farms. Two additional miles and we had gained the summit between Mormon Cooley and Coon Creek.—Descending into Coon Creek Valley, we passed down Breckinridge, or Break Neck Hill. The latter, we think, is the most appropriate cognomen, for it is almost a break-neck job to get down with a loaded team, so steep, sliding and rough is the hill. The La Crosse folks talk of improving this hill road, or finding a new route. They had better be moving, for as the road now is we do not blame the farmers for going to Sparta with their grain, for they are better able to haul 50 bushels to the load of wheat to Sparta than they are 25 bushels to La Crosse, while distance to both places is about alike.

Passing out of Coon Creek Valley, which is narrow but rich, we again ascended to the ridge, passing over which soon brought us to Coon Prairie. Here we were disappointed. Before lay a broad prairie of as fine land as ever lay out of doors, and as far as the eye could see, nought was to be seen but large fields of ripened and partially harvested grain. We had been always led to believe that Bad Ax Co., was out of the world, and did not contain much good land. We were really in error. The well cultivated farms, fine houses, new barns, etc., bespoke a rich and prosperous country.

We at length reached Viroqua, after a ride of thirty-five miles from La Crosse. This town is the County Seat, and is located in a grove of timber on a hill near Round Prairie. The village contains 500 people, and the many new and tidy looking dwellings betoken a thrifty people. They are thrifty, and rum is banished from their midst.

The order of Good Templars prospers finely at this place, and the members keep a vigilant eye upon the demon rum. Every attempt to establish the liquor traffic in their midst has thus far proved a failure—all intruders having been warned to leave. This town boasts of two newspapers, both Republican in their tendencies. There are five or six lawyers, all temperance men but one; so you see offenders stand a poor chance.

The festival was a success. The number formed in procession was at least 400 to 600. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Richland Centre Saxe Horn Band, which was pronounced excellent by the people present. The oration was delivered by E. B McMILLAN, a young La Crosse lawyer. It was a very able production, though most too long.

We were very kindly treated by the people of this village, and we shall ever remember their generous hospitality. We commend all who have occasion to travel in those regions to call at the "North Star" Hotel.

In returning homeward we took a new route, viz: followed the Sparta Road fifteen miles north, and then followed the Ridge Road thirty miles west to La Crosse. So much superior is this road to the one first traveled, that we made the distance, forty-five miles, in the same time occupied in traveling thirty five miles. The western twenty miles of the Ridge Road was in capital traveling condition. It lay through some very fine timber, with now and then a fine farm opened up. There was room for many more. Occasionally we got glimpses through the foliage of the trees of large areas of the surrounding country.

There is but little waste land in this country. The system of mixed husbandry, so common in many places, would do well here. There is ample pasturage room for immense flocks of sheep. Sheep, cattle and grain will do well together. God speed the day when it may all be settled, and yield up its stores of agricultural treasures for the convenience and comfort of man. TRAVELER.

WHILE A LOG was being cut in a saw mill at or near Mouston, Mich., the saw came in contact with some hard substance, which, upon examination, proved to be an old fashioned French hatchet, which was found embedded in the heart of the log; and judging from the number of rings outside of the hatchet, it is concluded to have been placed in the tree near a century ago.

THESE POPULAR BITTERS POSSESS all the nourishing and invigorating properties of PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY, and are considered the most efficacious TONIC and STIMULANT as well as the most agreeable and HEALTHFUL drink to the public. As a TONIC for OLD PEOPLE, delicate Ladies, convalescents, and all wasting diseases, they are unequaled, and will speedily restore to the system a vital principle essential in all cases of WEAKNESS or DEBILITY, they will give immediate relief, and impart strength and healthy tone to the system. A trial will establish their merits over all other Tonics now in use. FOR LUNG COMPLAINTS, BRONCHITIS DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DISEASES, FEVER AND AGUE, and all COMPLAINTS, they are an invaluable remedy; and are a certain preventive of CHILLS and FEVERS. Price $1 per bottle, or $6 per case of one and two dozen, and for sale by Druggists and Grocers everywhere.

Sewing Machines.

THE

SINGER SEWING MACHINES!

The marked and ever extending popularity of Singer's Sewing Machines!

BOTH IN AMERICA AND EUROPE, is such as best to establish their superiority over all others in the market. Sewing Machines so called may be bought, it is true, for a smaller amount of dollars, but the cheapest economy is to invest anything in a worthless or unreliable article, and those who will do so must abide the consequences.

SINGER'S NEW FAMILY MACHINES.

In order to place THE BEST FAMILY MACHINES IN THE WORLD within the reach of all, we have reduced the prices of our NEW STYLE OSCILLATING SHUTTLE MACHINES, beautifully ornamented, to $70.

SINGER'S NO. 1 AND 2 STANDARD SHUTTLE MACHINES.

Both of very general application and capacity, and popular both in the family and the manufactory. Prices reduced, respectively from $125 and $150 to $90 and $105.

SINGER'S NO. 3 STANDARD SHUTTLE MACHINE.

For carriage makers and heavy leather work. Price complete, $125. Also, to complete the list an

ENTIRELY NEW ARTICLE,

Unequalled for manufacturing purposes: NOISELESS, RAPID, and capable of every kind of work. Price, complete, with stand and treasure, $150; cheaper at that in view of its value than the machines of any other maker as a gift.

All of SINGER'S MACHINES make the interlocked stitch with two threads which is the best stitch known. Every person desiring to procure full and reliable information about sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing can obtain it by sending for a copy of "M. S. SEC & Co.'s Gazette, which is a handsome illustrated pictorial paper entirely devoted to the subject. It will be supplied gratis.

GOVERNOR VALVES,

FOR REGULATING THE

WARRANTED THE MOST PERFECT Governor of Steam Power in the World, and the only one that will keep perfect time. Also, Steam Engines manufactured by Judson & Snow, at Rochester, N. Y., to give 75 H. P. Address the Manufacturer, or H. R. BLOSSOM, Depot.

☞ Orders promptly filled for Milwaukee and vicinity.

CAUTION TO INFRINGERS.

Patents issued in the United States, Nov. 5th, 1845; Reissued, Jan. 4th, 1851. Second Patent, March 4th, 1851. Patented in Great Britain and the Canadas, June 5th, 1851.

This improvement consists in making regulating valves for steam engines, in such a manner as to stop by sudden motion, or by closing the opening made in the valve—or by accelerating the opening motion of the valve—the admission of steam to the cylinder, to any amount of valve, with accelerated valve motion. My patent Valves and Governors are so arranged as to give the full benefit of the expansive force of steam in the cylinder, by the power to open the valve just the exact amount of opposition necessary to counteract the resistance against the governors, by the addition of equal amounts of resistance, no matter standing that the motion of the governors continues and decreasing in its velocity.

Therefore reverse the action of valves, combined with governors as heretofore used, and I produced by many different mechanical devices, (apparently not similar, but really identical with my improvement,) and which infringe the patent upon the same, I therefore caution and request all persons interested, to examine carefully all alleged infringements in the valves or governors, upon the application of this truth or principle, first discovered and invented by me, is not involved in their arrangements, and that the principle upon which the patentee and inventor, both of which are at present much annoyed by their piratical depredations. IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS,

Prepared by Cornelius L. Cheeseman, M.D.,

NEW YORK CITY.

THE COMBINATION OF INGREDIENTS in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from interruption of nature

TO MARRIED LADIES,

Dr. Cheeseman's Pills are invaluable, as they will bring on the monthly period with regularity. Ladies who have been disappointed in the use of other Pills can place the utmost confidence in Dr. Cheeseman's Pills doing all that they represent to do.

NOTICE.

There is one condition of the female system in which the Pills cannot be taken without producing PECULIAR RESULT. The condition referred to is PREGNANCY—the result, MISCARRIAGE. Such is the irresistible tendency of the medicine to restore the sexual functions to a normal condition, that even the reproductive power of nature cannot resist it.

Warranted purely vegetable, and free from anything injurious. Explicit directions, which should be read, accompany each box. Prices $1. Sent by Mail on enclosing $1 to DR. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box 4531, Post Office, New York City.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL TO PROCURE MRS Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It has no equal on earth. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing inflamation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skilful Female Physicians in New England, and has been used with never failing success in millions of cases.

We believe it is the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or any other cause.

If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

None genuine unless the fac simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

PIMPLES AND SKIN DISEASES

ARE THE RESULT OF IMPURE blood. The blood becomes thick and clogged. The skin is not able to cast off the impurities so important to health. How many young men and women we see with their faces covered with pimples and blotches, who are endeavoring to remove them by the use of soaps and washes of various kinds. This is very dangerous and should never be practiced by persons desirous of good health. Mothers who have children afflicted with sores and eruptions should never dry them up by external applications for in this way they will drive in the humors and produce ill health for the child during its whole life time. There is no mother that likes to see her children afflicted with feeble health.

JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS are prepared expressly for the cure of eruptions of the skin, such as Pimples, Blotches, Sores, &c. They cleanse the blood of all impurities, producing a beautiful, clear and healthy skin, so much admired by all people of taste and refinement.

Judson's Mountain Herb Pills are sold by all medicine dealers. jy13d81dowceowlm

WHAT IS LIFE?

'Tis the quivering dew drops standing
On the violet purple cheek—
'Tis an ocean man is sounding,
'Tis a spell that death will break.

'Tis a flower that fadeth ever,
Let you cherish as you will;
'Tis a plant that fadeth never
In its language, good or ill.

'Tis a pitcher at the fountain
That shall crumble every day;
'Tis the mist upon the mountain
That Phœbus drives away.

'Tis a quickly moving hand
In the mighty clock of time;
'Tis a grain of desert sand
Swept by winds of every clime.

'Tis a silver chord that bindeth
The spirit and the clay;
'Tis a serpent that enchanteth
With its pleasures, day by day.

'Tis a narrow lane that endeth,
With the dismal gate of death,
Where a hideous porter standeth
To hurry souls from earth.

BACHELOR'S LOVE-MAKING.

You would have known it for a bachelor's den, the moment you put your hand in the door! Blue, spicy wreaths of cigar smoke circling up to the ceiling—newspapers under the table—Castile soap in the tiny bronze card-receiver—slippers on the mantel-piece, and general confusion everywhere. And yet Mr. Thornbrooke—poor deluded mortal—solemnly believed that his room was in the most perfect order. For had'nt he poked the empty champagne bottles under the bed, and sent the wood box to bear them company, and hung his morning gown over the damp towels, and dusted the ashes-sprinkled hearth with his best silk pocket handerchief? He'd like to see a room in better trim than that, guessed he would! And now he was mending himself up, preparatory to going calling, to call on the very prettiest girl in New York. Not that he was particularly fond of the needle, but when a fellow's whole foot goes through a hole in the northeast toe of his stocking, and there is'nt a button on his shirt, it's time to repair damages.

Now, as Mr. Thornbrooke's whole stock of industrial implements consisted of a lump of wax, an enormous pair of scissors, and one needle, the mending didn't progress rapidly. His way of managing the button question, too, necessarily involved some delay; he had to cut all these useful little appendages from another shirt and sew them on, and next when the second shirt was wanted, why it was easy enough to make a transfer again! See what it is to be a bachelor of genius! it never occurred to him to buy a few buttons extra!

"Buttons are not much trouble," said Mr. Thornbrooke to himself, as he wiped the perspiration from his brow; "but when it comes to coat-sleeves, what the mischief is a fellow to do? I hate'nt any black thread either," and he looked dolorously at a small tear just in his elbow, where some vicious nail had caught in the broadcloth. "A black pin may do for to night, and to-morrow I'll send it to the tailor; and so I would if I only dared to ask Lilian. O, dear! I know she wouldn't have me—and yet I'm not so certain either—if I only could muster the courage boldly to put the question! But just as sure as I approach the dangerous ground, my heart fails me! And then that puppy Jones, with his curled moustache and hair parted in the middle—always hanging round Lilian, and quoting poetry to her—if I could have the privilege of kicking him across the street, I'd die happy! He isn't bashful, not he! If somebody would only invent a new way of popping the question—something that was'nt quite so embarrassing!"

Out here gave his black, glossy curls an extra brush, surveyed himself critically in the glass, and then, with a deep sigh, set forth to call on the identical Lilian Raymond, resolving, as he had done a thousand times before, that if—perhaps—may be—

Oh! the bashfulness of bachelors.

When Mr. Thornbrooke arrived within the charmed precincts of Mr. Raymond's handsome parlors, velvet carpeted, chandeliered with gold and ormula, crowded to the very doors, with those charming knick-knacks that only a woman's taste provides, Miss Lily was "at home" in a bewildering pink merino dress, edged with white lace around the pearly shoulders, and a crimson moss rose twisted in among the rippling waves of her soft brown hair. She never looked half so pretty; and, thank Providence, Jones wasn't on hand, for once in his life. But what was almost as bad, Lily's cousin was there—a tall, slender, black-eyed girl, with arch lips, and cheeks as red as a Spitzenberg apple. O how Thornbrooke wished that Miss Esther Allen was at the bottom of the Red Sea, or anywhere else except in that particular parlor. And then her eyes were so sharp—he hadn't been doing the "agreeable" more than four minutes and a half before she exclaimed:

"Dear me, Mr. Thornbrooke—pray excuse me—but what on earth is the matter with your elbow?"

Mark turned scarlet—the traitorous black pin had deserted its post.

"Only a compound fracture in my coat, Miss Allen," said he, feeling as though his face might do the duty of Mr. Raymond's chandeliers put together, "you know we bachelors are not expected to be exempt from such things."

"Hold your arm, sir, and I'll set it all right in one moment," said Esther, instantly producing from some secret recess in the fold of her dress, a thimble and needle, threaded with black silk, and setting expertly to work.

"There, now, consider yourself whole."

"How skillful you are," said Mark, admiringly, after he had thanked her most sincerely. "But then you have so many nice little concerns to work with. I have only a needle and some wax, besides my scissors!"

"You ought to have a housewife, Mr. Thornbrooke," said Miss Lily, timidly lifting up her long lashes in his direction. Lily never could speak to Thornebrooke without a soft, little rosy shadow on her cheek.

"A what?" demanded Mark, turning very red.

"A housewife."

"Yes," said Mark, after a moment's awkward hesitation, "my—my friends have told me so very often—and I really think so myself, you know. But what sort of a one would you recommend, Miss Raymond?"

"Oh, any pretty little concern. I'll send you one in the morning, if you'll accept of it," she added with a rosy light on her cheeks again.

"If—I'll—accept it!" said Mark, feeling as if he were in an atmosphere of pearl and gold, with two wings sprouting out of his broadcloth, on either side. And just as he was opening his lips to assure Miss Lily that he was ready to take the precious gift to his arms then and there, without any unnecessary delay, the door opened and in walked Jones.

Mark was not at all cannibalistic in his propensities, but just then he could have eaten Jones up with uncommon pleasure.—And there the fellow sat, pulling his long mostaches and talking the most insipid twaddle—sat and sat, until Mark rose in despair to go. Even then he had no opportunity to exchange a private word with Lily.

"You—you'll not forget—"

"Oh, I'll be sure to remember," said she smilingly, and half wondering at the unusual pressure he gave her hand. "Ladies often do provide their bachelor friends."

Mark went home, the happiest individual that ever trod a New York pavement. Indeed, so great was his felicity that he indulged in various gymnastic capers indicative of bliss and only paused in them at the gruff caution of a policeman, who probably had forgotton his own courting day—"Come young man, what are you about?"

"Was there ever a more delicate way of assuring me of her favorable consideration? Was there ever a more feminine admission of sentiment? Of course she will come herself—an angel breathing airs from Paradise—oh! the delicious words! Wonder what neighborhood she would like me to engage a residence—how soon it would be best to name the day? Oh! if I should awake, and find it all a blissful dream!"

Early the next morning Mr. Thornbrook set briskly to work, "righting up things." How he swept and dusted and scoured—the room was aired to get rid of the tobacco smoke, and sprinkled with cologne and beautified generally. And at length, when the dust was all swept into one corner, and covered by a carelessly (!) disposed newspaper, he found the window glass murky, and polished it with such vengeance that his dirt, handkerchief and all, went through, sorely damaging the hand, and necessitating the ungraceful accessory of an old hat to keep out the wintry blast for the time being.—However, even this mishap didn't long damp his spirits, for was not Lily coming.

Long and wearily he waited, yet no tinkle at the bell gave warning of her approach.—"It's all her sweet feminine modesty," thought he, and was content.

At length there was an appeal below, and Mark's heart jumped into his mouth, beating like a reveille drum. He rushed to the door but there was but a little grinning boy with a box.

"Miss Raymond's compliments, and here's de housewife, sir."

"The housewife, you little imp of Erebus?"

"Yes sir, in the box, all right."

Mark slunk back into his room and opened the box, half expecting to see a full dressed young lady issue from its a la Arabian Nights; but no—it was only a little blue velvet book, and full of odd compartments in azure silk, containing tape, needles, scissors, silk, thimble, and all the nice little worktable accessories.

"And she calls this a housewife," groaned Mark, in inffable bitterness of spirit at the downfall of his bright visions. "But I won't be put off so!"

Desperation gave him courage, and off he hied to the Raymond mansion, determined to settle the matter if there was forty Joneses and Esthers there.

But Lilian was alone, singing at her embroidery in the sunshiny window casement.

"My dear Mr. Thornebrooke, is anything the matter?"

Perhaps it was the shadow from splendid crimson cactus plumes in the window that gave her cheeks such a delicate glow—perhaps—but we have no right to speculate.

"Yes." And Mark sat down by her side, and took the trembling, fluttering hand—"You sent me a housewife this morning?"

"Wasn't it right?" faltered Lilian.

"It wasn't the kind I wanted, at all."

"Not the kind you wanted?"

"No; I prefer a living one, and I came to see if I could change it. I wanted one with brown hair and eyes—something, in short, Miss Lilian, just your pattern. Can't I have it?"

Lilian turned white and then red; smiled, then burst into tears, and tried to draw away her hand; but Mark held it fast.

"No, no, dear Lily; first tell me if I can have the treasure I ask for."

"Yes," she said, with the prettiest confusion in the world; and then, instead of releasing the captive hand, the unreasonable fellow took possession of the other, too.—But as Lilly did not object, we suppose it was all right.

And that was the old path by which Mark Thornebrooks diverged from the walk of old bachelorhood, and stepped into the respectable ranks of matrimony.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

Additional by the Canadian.

FARTHER POINT, Aug. 7.

The steamship Canadian, which left Liverpool at 4 P. M., Thursday, 26th ult., and Londonderry the 27th, passed here at 6 A. M. to-day.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The Parliamentary proceedings unimportant.

A prospectus had been issued for a new telegraph company, which proposes to establish a system of the penny postage principle and convey messages of twenty words to any part of England, Scotland and Ireland, at the uniform rate of one shilling. An influential direction had been formed, with a capital of £100,000. It is proposed to work the lines on Allen's patent. The Atlantic Telegraph Company announce that the efforts made at Newfoundland to restore the Atlantic cable have failed.

Mr. Harley, the electrician, in his report says. By hard hauling, pieces of the cable were raised in small lengths, amounting in all to seven miles, but the cable invariably broke at short distances, and it was necessary at last to abandon the attempts. The report says the iron wires often appear sound but on minute inspection they were found eaten away and rotten. The gutta percha and copper wire were as good as when laid down. Portions which were wrapped with tarred yarn were sound; the tar and hemp having preserved the iron wires bright and free from rust.

The public income of Great Britain for the year ending June 30th, was £71,416,000, and the expenditures £70,504,000.

The American horses at the Goodwood races were meeting with ill success. Mr. Tenbroock's Maggogie and Sattelite ran second for the Steward's Cup and Goodwood stakes respectively. The Goodwood Cup, for which Starke was a great favorite, was to be run for the afternoon the Canadian left.

LIVERPOOL.—The Prince Regent of Prussia arrived at Toplitz on the 25th, being received at the railway termini by the Emperor of Austria.

The Paris Pays gives a report of a treaty between Austria and Prussia preceded by a conference at Toplitz.

FRANCE.—Letters from Paris say that Lord Palmerston's speech on England's National defences had created a great sensation. Some writers say that serious alarm was felt as to the maintenance of peace between the two nations.

A correspondent of the London Herald indulges in various warlike rumors, and states that all the naval officers on furlough had been ordered to report themselves without delay. The Naval Reserve had been called out. The French fleet in the Mediterranean is to be raised to twenty sail of the line.—Military preparations go on with unflagging activity for the Syrian expedition, which is stated at 25,000 men, besides artillery and cavalry.

NAPLES AND SICILY.—Nothing new has transpired relative to Garibaldi's movements. The King of Sardinia has received the Neapolitan Ambassador.

M. Miloro, who commanded the revolutionists in 1849, but was recently foreign interpreter at Queenstown, has gone to join Garibaldi.

A Turin despatch of the 26th says the mission of the Marquis de la Grica to Paris is to bring about a compromise, by which the King of Naples would accept the result of an universal suffrage in Sicily, should the Western Powers guarantee the integrity of his dominions on the main land and prevent Garibaldi from landing at Rome.

A letter from Rome says the Pope had refused to adopt any of the measures recommended by the French Ambassador, and declared that if these changes are forced on him, he will abandon his State.

Fears are entertained that Garibaldi might suddenly appear on the Papal territory.

SYRIA.—Advices from Syria are to July 7. Nothing fresh, but affairs were still serious.

Two Sardinian war vessels had been sent to the coast of Syria.

It is reported that the Viceroy of Egypt had placed his troops at the disposal of the Sultan to punish the Druses.

Russian letters say that great excitement prevailed against the Turks on account of the massacre.

The Paris Constitutionel says the expedition prepared by France will, as a matter of necessity, be carried out, and an early departure may be expected. The part of France will be that of occupation, rather than that of intervention.

The Algemeine Zeitung, of Augsburgh, reports the Chinese Ambassador, Tien Tsing dead or dying. It needs confirmation.

It is possible that the allies may receive propositions of peace from Pekin.

A German paper says an imperial ukase, by the Czar, places foreign merchants on an equal footing, in Russia, with the native merchants.

The French steam transport Izer has been lost in the American harbor, with 4640 tons of powder and much material of war.

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, August 8—3 P. M.

Accident on the Hudson River Railroad, near Stuyvesant, Monday afternoon, by the bursting of a gravel train on to a hand car. John Donnelly was killed and Robert Coon fatally injured.

Buenos Ayres advices of June 4th, state that the contract between Buenos Ayres and the Argentine confederation has been ratified, and there is every prospect of the establishment of peace. There was extraordinary activity in business and a large increase of the trade with the United States.

The most interesting international cricket match of the week will be commenced on the St. George's cricket grounds to-morrow. Several American members of the club, of those who played against Canada in the late match, will play for St. George's, who will bring all their strength into the contest. The Montreal party, several of whom played against the All England eleven, will play on their side. Mr. Vernon, of Philadelphia, who played finely in the late match, will play for Montreal, in place of one of the absentees. No professionals played with the Canadians in the late match, nor will any play in this one for Montreal.

The Election in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7—8 P. M.

The vote for Congressman from this District, part of it official, and one precinct yet to hear from, is as follows:

Short term—Barrett, 12,595; Blair, 12,426. Barrett's majority, 169, which will be increased by the one precinct to 200.

Long term—Blair, 12,831, a gain over 1858 of 4,750; Barrett, 9,916, a gain over 1858 of 2,859; Todd, 4,390, a loss since 1856 of 1,275.

The vote for Governor and member of the Legislature will be known to-morrow.

Kentucky Election.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 8—3 P. M.

Coombs' election is conceded by everybody. Majorities variously estimated. As far as heard from in thirty-five counties Coombs leads 13,000. The Breckinridge men in this section complain that the Dongwing has transferred a large portion of their vote from their nominee to Coombs. Coombs' majority, therefore, depends upon the action of the two wings of the democracy. The counties yet to be heard from are inaccessible by railroad or telegraph, and some days will be required to ascertain the final result.

Murder at Long Branch.

LONG BRANCH, August 7.

A murder was committed last night in the rear of the Morrisville House, in this place. Pistol shots and cries of "murder" were heard. A club besmeared with blood and hair was found on the beach, and the body had evidently been conveyed out to sea in a boat which had been pulled down to the surf. Clotted blood and hair was found on the sail and sides of the boat. Who the murderer or the victim was is a mystery.

Horrible Confession of a Murderer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.

On Sunday, July 29th, in Yorkshire, Catarangus county, the wife of James Wheat was found dead. Her husband was declared guilty of murder by the coroner's jury. On Wednesday, last inst., he was conveyed to jail in Ellicottsville, and yesterday he disclosed to the neighbors who visited him the fact that his father and mother assisted him—the father strangling the victim with a handkerchief. The deceased was enciente at the time. Great excitement prevails.

The Prince of Wales.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Aug. 7—3 P. M.

The ball at Fredericktown last night, was well attended. The Prince arrived here this P. M. The horses were unharnessed and the people drew the carriage through the streets. He subsequently embarked for Hansport.

Cincinnati Items.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 8—3 P. M.

The Bell and Everett County Convention yesterday nominated a full county ticket.—L. Anderson was nominated to Congress from the 1st district, and Hon. John Scott Harrison from the 2d district.

The Zouaves arrived this morning.

Earthquake in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 8—3 P. M.

A severe shock of an earthquake was felt at Henderson at 9:30 this morning, causing much consternation, during eight or ten seconds. A slight shock was felt here at 9 this morning.

Arrested.

TORONTO, Aug. 8—9 P. M.

Chas. McDougall and Wm. Montague, of Cincinnati, arrived here per steamer from Hamilton last evening. The latter person was arrested upon landing from the steamer, on a charge of embezzling $85,000 from West & McDougall; produce merchants of Cincinnati, of which firm McDougall was the principal partner, and Montague clerk. The detective who has been on their track for several days, arrived in Hamilton yesterday, and learning that parties answering their description had left per steamer, he immediately engaged a special locomotive and arrived in this city simultaneously with the steamer. McDougall escaped in a cab before the detective reached the wharf, and has not yet been arrested. Montague and a woman were arrested, and it is reported that Montague's trunks are found to contain $25,000 mostly in gold.

Arrested for Conspiracy.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8—9 P. M.

Josiah W. Bysself was arrested in this city last evening, by officers Dennis and Walter, and F Chadwick was also arrested in Rock Island by officer Webster, charged with conspiring to burn a Railroad bridge across the Mississippi at Rock Island.

Bissell is agent of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, and certain other parties.—Chadwick is attorney in the cases. Evidence of plan formed to burn the bridge is said to be conclusive.

Breckinride and Lane in New York.

SYRACUSE, Aug. 8—9 P. M.

The Breckinridge Convention has nominated the following ticket: For Governor, Jas. T. Brady of New York; Lieut. Governor, H. K. Vile of Buffalo; Canal Commissioner, Jas. M. Jaycox; State Prison Inspector, Robt. W. Allen; Electors at large, Gideon J. Tucker, Henry Randall.

At the conclusion of business Daniel S. Dickenson was called out and made a characteristic speech.

New York Matters.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8—9 P. M.

The steamship Kangaroo arrived to-day. She passed the Persian on the 27th and the Panama on the 29th.

The only additional information in reference to the supposed murder at Long Branch is rumored that the victim is a wealthy Southern planter, and the murderer a negro waiter at a hotel, who was enraged at the supposed insult offered him by the planter.

From Pike's Peak.

ST. JOSEPH, August 8—9 P. M.

By the Pike's Peak Express, which arrived this evening, we get the following news to August 2.

On Tuesday last, three sporting men, Coatwood, George Steele and John Rooker, in a state of intoxication, entered the office of the Rocky Mountain News, and seized the editor, Wm. H. Byrnes. Brandishing a cocked revolver, they threatened to kill him instantly, or any one who should attempt to interfere, and they forced him to accompany them to the Criterion Saloon, where they became more violent in threats and demonstrations.

Edward Jumps, proprietor of the saloon, succeeded in getting their attention while Byrne was taken out at the back entrance and escaped to his office. The three desperadoes mounted horses and rode to the News office, and endeavored to decoy Byrne with the intention of shooting him; but failing, rode past the office and fired several shots into it, which were returned—one ball taking effect on Steele, but not detaining him. By this time the whole city was aroused and out en masse, in pursuit.

When near Platte they separated, Steele coming back towards town, and was shot through the head by Thos. Pollock. Wood and Rooker were captured two hours later. Intense excitement prevailed and cries of hang them resounded from the crowd.—Counsel prevailed and they were remanded for trial. Yesterday forenoon was occupied in getting an impartial jury, and the afternoon in the examination of witnesses; their fate will be decided to day. Wood was once a destroying angel at Salt Lake, but fled hither, having destroyed a Saint.

Wood and Steele are both very desperate characters, and are dangerous to friend or foe when intoxicated. Rooker enjoys a swindler's reputation it is reported.

Rich discoveries have been made about 30 miles from Colorado City on the road to Tarryall, on the Platte. All who possibly can are leaving Colorado for the new discoveries.

The weather is very warm and showery.

COMMERCIAL.

MONETARY.

WEDNESDAY P. M., August 8th, 1860.

The banks report money matters quiet. Eastern Exchange is quoted steady, selling at ¼ and buying at ¾@1 ₱ cent premium. Money is easy for good business paper, but the banks will not look at anything not up to this standard; as the disposition at present is rather to contract than expand the discount line.

GOOD TO PROTEST.—We understand the Bank of Aurora, Illinois, went to protest on Saturday, and is now thrown out by the Chicago banks. The owners of this bank are the reported owners of PAUL & BROWNS' Bank, Eau Claire, Wisconsin.

NEW-YORK MONEY MATTERS.—We have the following by telegraph from New York to-day in reference to money and stocks:

Stocks animated and better, with a further advance since the board. Mo 6s 82; I C bonds 94¾; Pac Mail 99¾; N Y C 87, Harlem 17; do preferred 48¾; M C 57¾; M S 19¾; do guaranteed 49¾; H 60; L&C & Mi 2; Reading 47¾; G & C 77¾; I C scrip 63; C & R 58; C & R I 52¾.

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.—The Times & Herald of this morning, contains the following:

The demand for eastern exchange is not so brisk, and rates may be quoted a shade easier. We heard of some $20,000 being sold by an outside party at ¾ ₱ cent premium, and something over $30,000 was taken by one of our bankers at ¾ ₱ cent premium. The rates among bankers were very irregular; some houses were drawing at 1 ₱ cent premium, while others asked ¼@¾. There is a good demand for currency, but the supply is ample. We understand that one of our strongest houses has over half a million dollars more than it can employ profitably. There is but little business paper seeking accommodation, except what is made by produce houses, and that is of such short date as to enable the banks to convert it into available means at once. This, of course, prevents anything like stringency in money matters, and so long as it exists, we may expect to see easy times—in money matters.

Wheat at New York to-day is reported heavy, with small sales. Flour heavier, but unchanged, common to good Extra Western selling at $5,20@5,45.

Our market was not so firm as yesterday, notwithstanding the advance at Chicago, which is looked upon by many of our dealers as a mere speculative spasm that will soon be followed by a crushing reaction. Deliveries here, it will be observed, are on the increase, but are yet too trifling to attract shippers. Our quotations must be considered as merely nominal, until a more active movement of the crop takes place. There was a pretty active milling demand for Club to-day at $1@1,02, but No. 1 was neglected, and the best price paid was 99c. Flour was quiet and unchanged. Receipts of coarse grains were very trifling. Oats were a little better, selling in small parcels at 27@28c.—Corn 43@44c. Barley 60@63c for No. 1 to Extra. No change in other articles.

Another fine day for harvesting this has been, and the weather having now become settled, we may expect a good long dry spell.

CLEARING WHEAT FOR MARKET.—Mr. JOSEPH HATCH publishes a letter to the farmers of Michigan, calling their attention to the importance of sending their wheat to market in a merchantable condition. His remarks are not inapplicable to this State, although we are glad to say that the new wheat that has come to our market thus far this season has been in very good order. Mr. HATCH states that from appearances there is danger that the advantages attending the superior yield of the State, will be frittered away by carelessness in this matter, and that if this neglect should generally prevail, there will be a large falling off in the amount realized by the State for this great staple, besides a sacrifice of the reputation Michigan has been gaining for the superior character of her wheat. As an instance he gives the following particulars in regard to one day's inspection last week:

Out of six car loads, all of beautiful berry, five cars inspected No. 2, owing to the smut, cockle, and other foul stuff with which it was mixed. This difference in grade involved a difference of at least ten cents per bushel in the value of the wheat—a loss of over one hundred and fifty dollars on the lot; yet this loss required no extra labor, nor cost more than rendering or fifteen dollars, while the refuse stuff would have been worth $1 a bushel for feed. In another case, where the berry was as fine as I ever have seen, the lot was condemned for the smaller chess, and I was compelled to reject it entirely.

CHICAGO MARKET, AUGUST 7TH.—Receipts of flour and grain, at Chicago, yesterday, were as follows:

Flour, bbls	511
Wheat, bus	95,661
Corn, bus	90,165
Oats, bus	17,067
Corn, bus	1,500
Hides	151
Barley, bus	897

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

Freights to-day were firmer than they were yesterday. The following charters were made: brig Young American and schr Circassia, wheat to Port Colborne at 5½c; schr C H. Walker, corn to Port Colborne at 5c; schr Wm. Case, corn to Dunkirk at 5c.

FLOUR.—Receipts last week 5,791 brls, shipments 5,272 brls. During the earlier part of the week the market was quiet and easy, but for the last two or three days there has been a better demand with some shipping enquiry and prices have ranged 10@15c. Today holders were generally firm, but sales were quiet. Sales were made with the following sales: 50 brls Carlinville Southern Illino's White Winter at $5 75 on track; 100 brls Princeton City choice Spring Extra at $5 65 del.; 100 brls (brand not given) good Spring Extra at $4 90 del.; 100 brls Big Creek, fair do at $4 90 del.; 40 del.; 33 brls Western Spring superfine at $4 del.; 40 brls (brand not given) do at $2 90 del.; 62 brls do at $3,75 del.

WHEAT.—Receipts last week, 305,782 bus. Shipped, 229,956 bus. The market during the week has been active and buoyant, and prices have advanced 2@4c on all grades. To-day the steamer Sea telegraphed us with Liverpool dates to the 25th ult., reporting an advance in Wheat of 1d@2d. This caused a further advance of 1c, the market closing firm. The sales were as follows: 1,000 bu No. 1 Red Winter at $1 04 in store; 5,000 bu do at $1 05 in store; 1,000 bu No. 2 do at 98c; 5,000 bu do at $1 03 in store; 700 bu do at 99c in store; 2,000 bu do at 98c in store; 3,000 bu do at $1 00 in store; 700 bu Rejected Winter at 89c in store; 1,000 bu do at 90c on track; 1,000 bu do at 99c in store; 1,000 bu No. 1 Spring at 96c in store; 14,000 bu do at 95c in store; 1,000 bu No. 2 do at 92 in store; 700 bu do at 90c in store; 16,000 bu do at 94c in store; 10,000 bu Rejected Spring at 86c in store; 1,500 bu do at 85½c store; 4,000 bu do at 86c in store; 1,000 bu do at 85½c in store; 225 bu by sample at 92c on track; 140 bu do at 97c delivered.

Highwines.—Receipts last week 807 brls; shipped 604 brls. The market has been steady at 17½c for country, and 18c for city sales.

ST. LOUIS MARKET, AUGUST 7TH.—From the Democrat:

FLOUR.—No demand for round lots, and but little for small ones. Sales of 100 bags Mt. Vernon at $2,75; 50 bags city superfine at $2,60; 50 do at $2,65@; and 100 bbls double extra city p. t.

WHEAT.—Market quiet and unchanged. Sales of 600 sks spring and club at 90@95c; 52 sacks prime red at $1,05; 50 sacks choice do p. t.; and 197 sacks including sacks, at $1,08.

CORN.—Market very dull and sales hard to make at quotations. Sales of 460 sacks mixed at 44c; 50 sacks mixed white at 46c; 100 sacks do at 51c; 410 sacks white at 53c, delivered, 600 sacks white at 54c.

OATS.—Dull and slow sale. Reported sales of 240 sks prime at 28c; 217 sks new at 27½@28c; 673 sks do lots at 29c; and 100 sks at 30c.

BARLEY.—A small lot of poor sold on private terms.

RYE.—Is the sales of 128 sks at 72c, including 48 sacks at 75c; 45 sks at 76c.

PORK.—Heavy; mess cannot be had at less than $19,-50; some ask $20. No sales.

LARD.—Nominally 18@18½c per lb for prime in large packages.

BACON.—A fair business has been had in the past two days. Sales of 60 and 100 cks dry rib sides at 11½c; 10 and 100 cks dry shoulders at 9½c; 10 cks clear sides at 12¾c; 6 cks plain canvassed hams at 11½c; and 7 cks sugar-cured do at 12½c. Other lots of sugar-cured hams held at 13c.

WHISKEY.—Steady, with sales of 275 bbls at 18c.

CINCINNATI MARKET, AUGUST 6TH.—From the Gazette:

FLOUR.—The market has not undergone any change of consequence; the demand is moderate, only, and not equal to the offerings. We quote fair to good brands at $4,55@4,65; extra to extra do family do at $4,75@5,25; and fancy at $5,00@5,75.

WHEAT.—There is a good demand for prime white, and prices advanced 2c per bush, closing at $1,08@1,10. Red is firm and in good demand at 98@99c. The local millers are buying sparingly; sales of 100 bush prime red at 95c; 200 do mixed at 96c; 1,000 do white at $1,05; 125 do prime red at 97c; 125 do do white at $1,05; 100 do inferior red at 90c; 700 do prime white at $1,10; 2,000 do do at $1,21; 300 do good white at $1,10 delivered.

PROVISIONS.—The market continues quiet for all articles, holders remain firm as usual, and continue to ask $19 for mess pork, 9½@11½c for hoosrs, and 8¾@10¾c for bulk meat. 90 hhds bacon shoulders sold at 9½c, to be understood though, 50 hhds, made up of three brands, were on the market at 9½c, without a buyer. Nothing doing in Lard.

GROCERIES.—Sugar steady and in moderate demand at 8¾@9¼c. Coffee steady at 15½@16c. Molasses steady but dull at 46@45c.

GRAIN STATISTICS OF WINONA.—From a source of the most unquestionable authority, we give below the exact amount, in bushels, of grain purchased and shipped from Winona, from the 20th of August, 1859, to the 15th of July, 1860—comprising the crop of 1859. It will be seen that the following table exceeds, in the aggregate, by 100,000 bushels, any estimate of the grain exports of Winona heretofore made public thro' our columns:

Bush. Wheat.	Bush. Oats.	Bush. Other Grain.	Barrels Flour.
441,000	219,000	18,000	4,000

Total number of bushels, including flour 705,000

We may add, that from the same source whence the above figures were obtained, we also derive the information that the amount of grain shipped from Winona is very nearly equal to one-half the entire shipments of Minnesota; and as compared with any other town in the State, it is more than ten or as great as the next highest to Winona.—Winona Republican.

SMUT IN WHEAT.—There is a great deal of smut in wheat the present season. It prevails to a greater extent than was expected, and has only shown itself lately.—Appleton Crescent.

PECULIAR CONDITION OF THE WEST.—Intelligent Eastern merchants, those who are really conversant with the condition of things at the West, posit the idea that that section is peculiarly weak. It is admitted that Wisconsin alone has a surplus of twenty millions in spring wheat. The farmers are getting for it ten prices for their pork, and everything throughout the entire West indicates a pecuniary prosperity and soundness, which, to say the least, is equal to any other section.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Chicago Lumber Market.

TUESDAY EVENING, Aug. 7.

There is but little change to note in the lumber market since the date of our last weekly review—the farmers have been too busy with their crops to permit them to think of any thing else, consequently there has been but little demand from the country. The receipts of sawgoods have been light, and few sales have taken place. We have heard of some six or eight cargoes being taken at $8@9 ₱ M for common to good Green Bay and Oconto—two or three cargoes of common here also been taken at $7,50@8. These cargoes would have been sold at $8,50@9 three weeks since. There has been little doing in yard lumber—and the quotations are unchanged—yet a firmer feeling prevails among all classes of dealers.

The following are the closing Yard quotations of lumber, &c., &c.:
